About Us

NDHIN

Life can take you down some unexpected roads.

And when it comes to your healthcare, you want to be prepared.

The North Dakota Health Information Network (NDHIN) makes medical record sharing faster and easier for authorized doctors and patients, just like you.

Our methods are safe and confidential. You can trust that your information is protected.

Your medical records are important to us and we are here to simplify the process for you.

What our customers are saying

I like that we can access the patients PCP, see their recent visits and the way NDHIN groups the labs together where you can view all the dates and same labs.
